Program Highlights

One Day Healing Fishing Events

- Locations: Montana, Idaho | 17 first responder Participants
- Facilitated therapeutic fly-fishing sessions for small groups. These activities support mindfulness, alleviate stress, and provide opportunities for reflection, enabling veterans and first responders to reconnect with themselves and benefit from the restorative effects of nature. Wheelchair-accessible drift boats are available.

Multi-day River Recovery Expeditions

- Locations: Deschutes River, Maupin, Oregon | 6 first responder Participants
- Over the course of a three-day rafting trip on the Deschutes River, participants had the opportunity to spend time away from routine activities. The river setting and group experiences were associated with lower reported stress levels and an increased sense of purpose.
